

Commenting is an integral part of the Canoe England Facebook Page and we encourage everyone to participate, contribute and connect with us and each other.

We value your comments on our Page and are constantly looking for ways to improve dialogue so we've put together the following guidelines on how to make the most of Canoe England Facebook conversation threads.

In addition to helping foster great conversation these guidelines, along with the context in which comments are made, are taken into account when we make decisions regarding the content on our Page.

We have a responsibility and reserve the right to remove any content, and those who post it, if we believe it to be compromising these guidelines.

Canoe England Facebook Page: Commenting Do's & Don'ts

Do speak from relevant and personal experience that adds value to the conversation.

Don't post comments or links that are irrelevant to the original post or conversation thread.

Don't post spam.

Do help us maintain inviting interaction by self-policing threads and flagging spam. Although we have a hands-on approach to community engagement, we do sometimes miss things!

Don't use the Canoe England Facebook Page to ask questions which would be better directed at the relevant Canoe England department. Use the Page as an opportunity to share tips, information & discussions with others that are interested in canoeing.

Don't use offensive or profane language or threaten others. Maintain intelligent discussions by being respectful & considerate to both other Facebook users and Canoe England Facebook admin.

Do engage in polite and valuable conversation threads with fellow Facebook users and Canoe England Facebook Admin.

Don't attack fellow Canoe England Facebook Users, staff or Facebook Admin.

If you disagree with something, we respect your opinion however we expect you to share your thoughts in a constructive and respectful manner. Don't bully, intimidate or harass. We will distinguish between constructive arguments and smear tactics.
